TERMINAL SALE.

In New York it is Expected That the Road Will be Bought

JOINTLY BY B. &amp; O. AND W. &amp; L. E.

These Are the Railroads That Now Use the Terminal More Than Any Others Entering Wheeling—No Interest Has Been Paid on the Bonds Since December, 1891—The Recent Purchase of Terminal Bonds.

The following special telegram from New York, received last night by the Intelligencer, announces the forthcoming sale of the Wheeling Bridge & Terminal Railway Company properties, will be read with interest:

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.

NEW YORK, May 10.—The approach-failure sale of the property of the Wheeling Bridge & Terminal Company is developing interest as to the probable future of the bridge and the important terminal property at Wheeling, W. Va. The sale takes place on May 22, under the suit brought by the Washington Trust Company, of New York, trustee of the $2,000,000 first mortgage 6 per cent bonds. No interest has been paid on these bonds since December, 1891, when the bridge and terminal connections were completed.

Kuhn, Loeb & Co. purchased a majority of each class of securities early in the current year, but they decline to state in what interest they are acting. The bridge and its terminal tracks connect on one side of the Ohio river with the Wheeling & Lake Erie, the Cleveland, Lorain & Wheeling, and the Cleveland & Pittsburgh, and on the eastern side with the Baltimore & Ohio, Pennsylvania lines and the Ohio River road.

It is expected that the property will be bought in the joint interest of the Baltimore & Ohio and the Wheeling & Lake Erie, the roads now making the greatest use of its facilities.

A New Superintendent.

The announcement was made this week that Otto Scholl has been appointed the superintendent of the Wheeling Bridge & Terminal Company, vice Mr. Taussig, resigned. Mr. Scholl was the chief engineer of the road. Mr. Taussig, whom he succeeds, is now the assistant to the general manager of the Wheeling & Lake Erie at Cleveland. In his new capacity Mr. Taussig will have charge of no particular work, but will assist Mr. Blickensderfer. It was expected that he would assume the duties of the general superintendent, but it seems that this is to be taken care of by Mr. Blickensderfer himself.
